SHANI FORD
FROM SYDNEY NSW

Information seems to simply "pour through" Shani and at times you get the impression that she can't speak quickly enough to keep up with her psychic ability. And you'll need your pen moving quickly!

THE STORY OF SHANI . . . Shani Ford is a person who is called many reverent labels by her clients, but all would agree that she has "the open heart". She is such an expression of limitless compassion and unconditional love, that there is no doubting her spiritual maturity as a part of that rare class of highly evolved people on the planet with us today.

Forever humble and bound by modesty, this lady can tune into your soul and your life effortlessly as you speak with her. Information comes so willingly about any person you mention, things she couldn't possibly have known. And a lot of ground is covered even in a short session with her.

Well before working along side the best clairvoyants in the country, her ability was clarified to The Psychic Club through her winning the "test your psychic power" national magazine competition five issues in a row. The competition was becoming a joke. Since then, more and more, she's so busy at night when she works, that clients often have long waits until late in the evening to speak with her. For almost six years she has served those who need answers and for the two years of that time, without any interest in being paid. Why? Because of her modesty, selflessness, generosity, drive to help others and also a resolute commitment to aid The Psychic Club Of Australia in its development. Finally she was convinced to actually accept some just rewards for her stunning gifts!

I have had several readings with others, but have found Shani to be one of the best. Her readings are detailed and spot on.

MARTIN MORRIS
FROM GLENGARRY TAS

Martin is a reader who can help you to achieve a greater balance, peace and clarity in your life. Once you hear his voice you'll know that you are speaking to an honest and sincere clairvoyant who not only has years of psychic experience but many years of life experience. He has both psychic power and spiritual wisdom.

THE STORY OF MARTIN . . . Martin is a clairsentient healer who also occasionally uses the runes (ancient Nordic symbols) to identify the deep inner causes of people's problems. His clairsentience in readings can be pin-point.

His healing energy, particularly through his voice, creates an immediate feeling of security and well being in clients. Martin says that this is his important first step in establishing the two-way process of understanding and resolving the issues facing a client. He likes to reach the very underlying cause of a situation and work with you from there to give you the power to create what you want without any handicaps.

Martin has lived a very practical and varied life path which has given him the capacity to relate to people at all levels to face all manner of issues in the inner and outer worlds. He has been a high flying business man, a farmer, a corporate consultant, a father, a husband and more.

He strives to ensure that the guidance and insight provided in a reading strikes a chord within the client in order for the process to be truly effective.

I have had two readings with Martin so far, and I will certainly be asking for more readings from this very talented and wise man. Martin is an extraordinary psychic who interprets the runes with deep intuition. His understanding of my situation was very accurate and telling. He has the ability to interpret people and events with great perception, and his guidance has been immeasurably helpful to me. Martin does not deal in vague "fluff" but is to the point and his readings are packed full of relevant information - and above all, he is a most compassionate person. Thank you, Martin.

SIMON FENN
FROM MOUNT GLORIOUS QLD

A man dedicated to living the spiritual life, not just talking about it. He combines the ancient knowledge of shamanic practices with the latest discoveries of quantum science and kinesiology. His clairvoyant readings are aimed at being a wholistic therapy for you as well, peering into the root causes of situations on all levels of your being.

THE STORY OF SIMON . . . For over a decade, Simon has been a reader. Like many readers, he started with friends and family and then more people quite simply because it seems to help people to clarify their lives. You'll notice Simon's British accent, because he has been reading professionally in the UK for some time and only in the last year or so in Australia.

He is a kinesiologist and clairvoyant specialising in scanning body energies of clients using a form of surrogate kinesiology that turned into a method of distant healing (discovered talking over the phone to people in the UK). This basically involves picking up disresonant patterns in people's energy fields and linking them to particular life events to release blockages and empower the choices that people can make to get the futures that they want.

For over 15 years, he has read very widely on a range of psychic and divination areas, traditional shamanic practices, and scientific studies into vibrational medicine and physics. He has been involved in a Native American medicine circle in the US and has travelled with them through South Africa, meeting and learning from traditional medicine people. Simon has worked with and studied under people who are the "real deal". In recent years, he has trained as a kinesiologist in Australia, which allowed all that he has previously done to form into one cohesive system.

Hi, I think Simon was absolutely amazing. I was blown away by the information that he gave me. It was very detailed on a physical level, an emotional level and a spiritual level as well as the mental. It was way more than I asked. I think it will probably take me a little while to process everything. It was one of the most phenomenal readings that I have had. Thank you so very much. Bless you. Bye Bye.
